

JAPANESE SEIZE A NEW YORK YACHT

ASPIRING AMBASSADOR SUED FOR DIVORCE

Probably fair to-night and Thursday; warmer.

Probably fair to-night and Thursday; warmer.

FINAL EDITION.

The
EVENING EDITION
World.

"Circulation Books Open to All."

FINAL EDITION.

PRICE ONE CENT. NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1913. 18 PAGES. PRICE ONE CENT.

FORMER MRS. DUKE NAMED IN SEPARATION CASE FILED BY EX-CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE

Mrs. Lafayette Pence of Colorado Accuses Woman Tobacco Millionaire Freed. DOESN'T WANT DIVORCE

Plans Action for $150,000 Damages After Shadowing Pair Two Years.

Mrs. Catharine Soper Pence, the wife of former Congressman Lafayette Pence of Colorado, who has been mentioned as a possible appointee to an Ambassadorship under the present Administration, today filed papers in a suit for separation against him, charging extreme cruelty and abandonment. For proof of cruelty she alleges continued misconduct on his part with Mrs. Lillian M. Duke, divorced wife of J. B. Duke, the tobacco millionaire, for two and a half years, to an extent which would warrant her in asking for a divorce if she cared to give her husband the opportunity to marry the former Mrs. Duke.

Mrs. Pence has also instructed her attorney, Clark L. Jordan, to bring suit against Mr. Duke, who is believed to be worth nearly three-quarters of a million dollars, for $150,000 damages, based on the allegations in the separation suit, for alienation of her husband's affections.

The suit for separation, according to Mrs. Pence, followed twenty-five years of married life in which she never once doubted her husband's loyalty or his domestic probity.

ABANDONED FOUR DAYS AFTER MRS. DUKE BECAME HIS CLIENT.

"When they were married, in 1888, Mrs. Pence was the beautiful Catharine Soper, one of the two daughters of Col. Robert Soper of Georgetown, Ky., renowned even in the blue grass country for her beauty. To-day, with hair so white that it is brilliant, and a soft, grayish complexion and dusky black eyes, she retains the charm of her girlhood."

She explains in the papers that after being for four years a member of the Colorado Legislature, acquiring large interests in mining projects, acting as District Attorney in Denver for four years and spending one term in Congress, he entered into a partnership with former Deputy Attorney General Michener in Washington, D. C., in November, 1910. To them came Lillian M. Duke as their first client, the wife of a judge. Four days later, she asserts in her complaint, Mr. Pence abandoned her. Since September of the following year he has not contributed to her support.

Mrs. Pence charges that detectives in her employ, obtaining the assistance of bellboys and telephone girls in the Belmont apartments on upper Broadway, satisfied her that Mr. Pence and Mrs. Duke were living in the same apartments. The two, she says, discovered that they were being watched, and Mrs. Duke sought her apartment. Thereafter, she went with Pence to the Elbert House in Washington, the complaint says, and to Cuba.

SAYS PENCE ASKED FOR DIVORCE TWO YEARS AGO.

On their return to this city they moved into sublet rooms in the Clifton Apartments in Riverside Drive, the complaint relates.

"My agents tried to obtain the means of information at the Clifton which they had at the Belmont," Mrs. Pence told an Evening World reporter, "but were unable to do so, because the employees there said they had been previously engaged by Mrs. Duke and it would not be honorable for them to help me."

Mrs. Pence lives at the Rockingham Apartments, Broadway and Fifty-sixth street. She has inherited enough from the estate of her father to live quietly, independently of her husband, and to prosecute her suit vigorously.

"These negotiations for a separation," she said, "began in 1911, when Mr. Pence told me he thought I ought to divorce him. It was all arranged. A man came on from Colorado who was to testify to misconduct of Mr. Pence

STEEL POUNDED BELOW 50 IN RAID ON THE MARKET

Excitement on Floor of Exchange When Banking Interests Fail to Protect.

STOCKS ARE UNLOADED. Government Suit Responsible for New Attack All Along the Line.

Wall street was utterly demoralized when the stock market closed to-day. A sudden collapse of the market occurring in the last half hour before closing threw the street into the most panicky state it has reached since the beginning of the unrest which has existed in the Street now for many days.

It was with a feeling of relief that brokers saw the market close and realized that there were no more chances to them several hours before the morning's opening in which courage and confidence might be somewhat restored. But they realized, too, that probably only some assurance from the Administration at Washington favorable to business interests and indicative of a let-up in the present attack of Attorney-General McReynolds on big interests could prevent a panic.

Various reasons were assigned for the sudden upheaval of the market this afternoon. Chief among these was Mr. McReynolds's suit against the Quaker Oats Company, which was opened by the Department of Justice in Chicago to-day.

CANADIAN PACIFIC SHARES OFFERED FOR SALE.

It was regarded as the first gun in the fight on trusts, and its influence was made immediately apparent. Then, too, there could be no confidence borrowed from the attitude of Congress on the monetary situation. News from Washington painted the Democratic party as thoroughly upset over the currency reform, and it was predicted freely that there would be no reform this session.

The downward rush of stocks was precipitated by the sudden launching on the market of 2,000 shares of Canadian Pacific, which were offered by Joseph Walker & Sons, operating for a big London syndicate. Harry Conant, at the same moment threw 300 of the shares on the already unsteady market. As a result the stock dropped two points and more, immediately stopping at 20 1/4, and it opened the flood gates of liquidation.

Instantly there were blocks of Steel, Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Reading, Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific and Erie thrown on the weakening market. All over the Exchange rushed wild rumors of trouble to big houses, especially in two or three big Montreal concerns whose failure was looked for momentarily.

ANOTHER ATTACK CENTRES ON UNITED STATES STEEL.

As usual the objective point was Steel. As in the big raid of yesterday the forces centred about this post and a battle royal ensued. Yesterday the stock was hammered down to 60 1/2, but there it rallied, and the cheers could be heard for three blocks as the frenzied men on the floor realized that the land-slide had been stopped.

To-day the scene was repeated, only this time there was not the big banking support which had saved the day yesterday. Thousands of shares of Steel were traded in at 60 1/4, and as the stock struggled upward to 60 3/4 there came again the cheers of yesterday.

But in the last fifteen minutes the raid became fiercer and 2,000 shares were traded in around 50 1/2. And then the stock broke through 50. There was a wild scene about the post and the crowd on the floor shrieked and yelled as the stock was pounded steadily down to 49 1/2, where 2,100 shares were traded in.

As the market closed the stock had rallied only an eighth of a point and the day ended with Steel at 50, a new low water mark for the present raid. In all, 104,000 shares had been traded in.

The sales of Canadian Pacific, totaling 14,000 shares, were probably the largest ever recorded on the Exchange here. The stock opened at 217 1/4, went to 217 3/4 and then smashed downward to 20 1/4.

Ex-Congressman and Suing Wife; Divorcee She Says Stole Love

ASSASSINS KILL GRAND VIZIER IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Mahmoud Schefer Pasha Shot by Two Men as He Rides in His Automobile.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—The Turkish Grand Vizier, Mahmud Schefer Pasha, was assassinated to-day by two men armed with revolvers, who attacked him while he was proceeding in his motorcar to the Sublime Porte.

Ibrahim Bey, the aide-de-camp of Mahmud Schefer Pasha, was also killed by the assassins. It is understood that the men who committed the crime are civilians.

It is believed in Government circles here that the assassination of the Grand Vizier was the outcome of a plot against the Committee of Union and Progress.

Mahmud Schefer Pasha had held office as Grand Vizier since Jan. 25, this year, when Kiamil Pasha resigned. On the same day Nasim Pasha, the commander of the Turkish army at Chalchalla line, was shot dead during a demonstration in Constantinople.

A pure Arab and a native of Bagdad, Mahmud Schefer Pasha was brought to Constantinople with his family when he was a boy. After studying at the military school he graduated when eighteen years old with the highest honors. He was a great favorite of the former Sultan, Abdul Hamid, who appointed him to the General Staff. Subsequently he proceeded to Germany and stayed there ten years studying the organization of the German army.

Despite his close intimacy with Abdul Hamid, the Grand Vizier was the moving spirit in fostering the military revolution which brought about that Sultan's fall.

CITY TO PROVIDE HOME FOR MORGAN ART LOAN.

Board of Estimate to Vote $750,000 for New Wing to Metropolitan Museum.

The great art collection of the late J. Pierpont Morgan will at last be housed in a wing of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. This was made certain to-day when it was announced that the Board of Estimate will appropriate $750,000 for the purpose of building a wing to the museum to properly accommodate the great collection which is to be loaned to the city for an indefinite period.

As soon as the money is authorized work will start on the new wing as quickly as building bids can be advertised.

DUFFY GRAFT CASE GOES TO THE JURY ON GOFF'S CHARGE

Ex-Police Sergeant, on Stand in Own Defense, Says Wife Kept Bank Account.

$1,361 IN ONE MONTH. Defendant Swears He Took No Bribes From Gambler Roth for Protection.

The fate of former Police Sergeant Peter J. Duffy is in the hands of the jury, which is to decide whether or not he took a gambler's money in payment for police protection. Supreme Court Justice Goff began his charge to the jury at 4:30 o'clock and delivered the case into their hands soon afterwards.

Duffy, during the day, had taken the stand in his own defense and had offered a complete denial of the accusations of the State's witnesses. Then he was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Nott.

After a long legal wrangle with Abraham Levy, Duffy's counsel, Nott succeeded in incorporating in the record of the trial Duffy's admissions concerning the deposits of sums, relatively large for a policeman, drawing $1,361 a year salary, in the First National Bank of New York. Duffy denied that he had made these deposits, aggregating $5,000 in one month, but he thought maybe his wife had done so.

MAKES SPECIFIC DENIAL OF GRAFT CHARGES.

On direct examination Duffy, as relating the usual preliminary questions of his counsel, said he was forty-four years old, the father of three children and had been a member of the police force seventeen years when the present charges were brought against him. He then entered upon a specific denial of every damaging statement made by former Policeman Eugene Fox, Julius Roth and other witnesses for the prosecution.

Though admitting friendship with Fox and a speaking acquaintance with Roth, the proprietor of the West One Hundred and Eighteenth street pool room, Duffy denied that he had ever received from Fox a list of the "protected" gambling resorts in the relocated Harlem district, denied that he had ever asked for or received money from Roth or that he had ever sent Ashley Shees, a fellow gambler, to Roth to tell him to "stand pat" after the charge upon which he is being tried was brought against him. That done, Levy turned Duffy over to Nott for cross-examination.

WIFE OF DUFFY MADE INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE.

In opening the cross-examination Nott had the defendant detail the number of years he had served as a plain clothes man under ex-inspector Sweeney during the latter's captaincy and in what stations he had served. He brought out the fact that four years ago Duffy's wife bought a piece of property on Radford avenue, New York, and built an apartment house on it. The Court would not permit Duffy to answer Nott's questions as to how much the house and lot cost. Nott also got Duffy to admit that his wife had subsequently purchased a one-family house on Landscape avenue, New York.

When the Assistant District Attorney began to ask Duffy about the bank accounts he had in the New York Savings Bank and the First National Bank of New York, Justice Goff at first contained Levy's strenuous objections, but later, after argument by Nott, reversed his ruling and instructed the witness to answer. One of the questions Duffy did not have to answer was whether or not he now possessed a bank account of $67,000.

Duffy said that in July of last year his bank balance was only $1,800. He admitted the following deposits on the First National: Aug. 3, $1,100; Aug. 10, $200; Sept. 19, $200; Oct. 15, $200.

ADMITS HE GIVES ALL HIS MONEY TO HIS WIFE.

When Duffy declared that he did not make these deposits and that it must have been his wife who took these various sums to the bank, Nott suddenly asked him:

"What do you do with your money?"

HARVEY LADEW'S YACHT, NEW YORKERS ABOARD, SEIZED BY JAPANESE

Columbia Carrying Party of Society Leaders on Oriental Cruise, Enters a Forbidden Port and Is Held by Officials.

ENTIRE SAILING PARTY PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Almost Unheard of Action, Taken Under Old Law, May Lead to Complication With U. S.

TOKIO, June 11.—The American yacht Columbia, with its owner, J. Harvey Ladew of New York and his party aboard, was seized to-day by the Japanese authorities at Wakayama, on the Inland Sea, midway between Kobe and Nagasaki.

The yacht had put into Wakayama for repairs, and since that is not one of the ports open to foreign commerce, because of the proximity of Japanese forts, the boat was put under arrest and the members of the party are being held there.

Baseball Games To-Day

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

AT CHICAGO.
GIANTS—0 0 2 0 0 0
CUBS—0 1 0 0 0 0

AT PITTSBURGH.
BROOKLYN—0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1—3
PITTSBURGH—0 3 1 0 2 3 2 0—11

AT CINCINNATI.
PHILADELPHIA—0 2 0 0 0
CINCINNATI—0 0 0 0 1

AT ST. LOUIS.
BOSTON—0 0 0 1
ST. LOUIS—0 0 0 0

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

AT NEW YORK.
CHICAGO—0 0 0 1 0 0 0
NEW YORK—0 0 0 0 0 0 0

AT WASHINGTON.
DETROIT—0 7 1 0 0 0 2
WASHINGTON—0 0 0 0 0 0 0

AT PHILADELPHIA.
ST. LOUIS—0 0 0 0
PHILADELPHIA—0 0 1 0

AT BOSTON.
CLEVELAND—1 0 4 0 0 0
BOSTON—0 0 0 0 0 5

FOR BASEBALL AND RACING SEE PAGES 12 AND 13.

FROM THE FRITZ SCHEFF SHOW.

Words and music of one of the song hits of "Mlle. Modiste," by Victor Herbert, will be given in the Sunday World Magazine next Sunday. Order from newsdealer in advance.

BARNES FIGHTS TWO.

Opposes Sheena and Colby in His Attack on Direct Primaries.

A debate behind closed doors will be held to-night on the Direct Primaries bill in the room of the Independent Club, which is an auxiliary of St. Michael's Church, Ninety-ninth street and Amsterdam avenue, of which the Rev. Dr. John F. Peters is pastor. He will preside at the meeting. William Barnes Jr. will try to prove that there should be no direct primary. Bainbridge Colby and Clarence J. Sheena will tell him how foolish he is.

But the wonder of it all is that the doors will be closed to all but about one hundred members of the club.